Everything you wanted to know about the Big Bang
but were afraid to ask

Dubbed the The Axis of Evil by cosmologist João Magueijo of Imperial College London, the pattern [2005 CMB Anomaly per U. of Chicago]<sup>above</sup> appears in the map of the microwave background CMB built up by NASA's Wilkinson Microwave Anisotropy Probe (WMAP).

FROM – University of Chicago Re - The Axis of Evil :

“ ... found statistically significant and completely unexpected correlations of the CMB quadrupole and octopole with the the geometry and direction of motion of the solar system.”

“...the [Large Angle CMB Anomalies] power...is...in conflict with the prediction of the standard cosmological model.”

Continuing The Axis of Evil

These Unexpected correlations with the direction of motion of the solar system

This synthesis ... requires data from the very slow moving [0.2% of the speed of light] Earth with its contiguous family of galaxies as being about 60 million light years from the epicenter of the Big Bang Explosion IN the Arena of energy-filled SPACE.

That short distance is reflected in the fig.12 CMB anomaly and is consistent with this paper's analysis - figure 13.

Figure 13

- First - figures not to scale.
- 2nd Earth is 60 million light years from dead center and heading in dotted line direction [ on the now dubbed - The Axis of Evil ] .
- 3rd Distance from Earth to CMB via dotted line is shorter [ -0.2%] relative to radius
- than that of the solid line [+0.2%].
- 4th Center to CMB – 13.7 billion light years.
- 5th Fig. 13 Off-center Earth must and does see fig.12 CMB anomaly

Analysis

This small difference is large enough to be recognized in the model and is now the subject of much study, much to the dismay of leading cosmologists.

This The Axis of Evil is the strongest evidence of a Big Bang Explosion in the Arena of energy-filled Space.
